Soaring To The Top

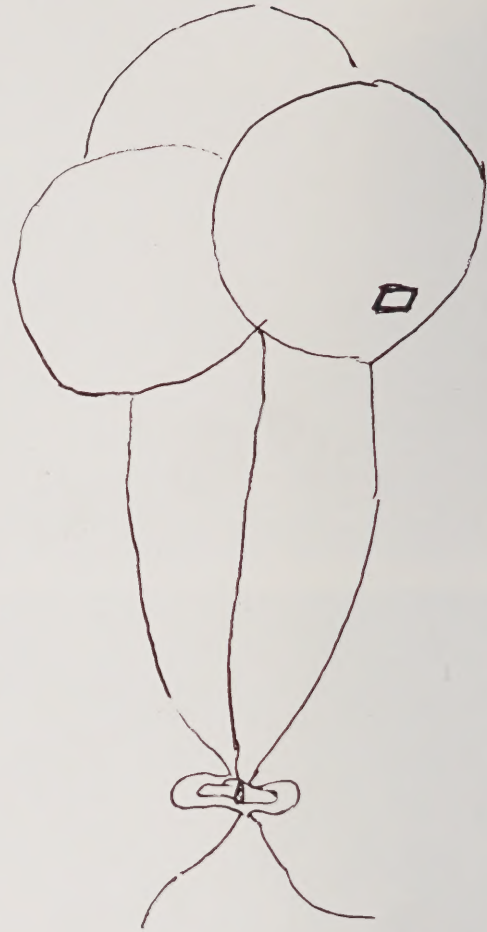

Around East High this year more smiling faces were seen and more laughter heard. Our students found that getting behind the athletic teams and showing them some real East High spirit proved to be worthwhile. We showed all the teams that no matter whether they won or lost, we loved them all the same. Athletics were not the only thing that students showed interest in. Clubs and academics proved to be other strong points at East this year. Although the sophomores, juniors, and seniors had their individual goals and projects, when they worked together they found how much faster things could be accomplished. This year we welcomed some new teachers. They added new outlooks on our academic and athletic views. East High showed that it is a great school and there is no stopping us. Our student body proved that enthusiasm, interest, and spirit sent us SOARING TO THE TOP.

Up

And Away

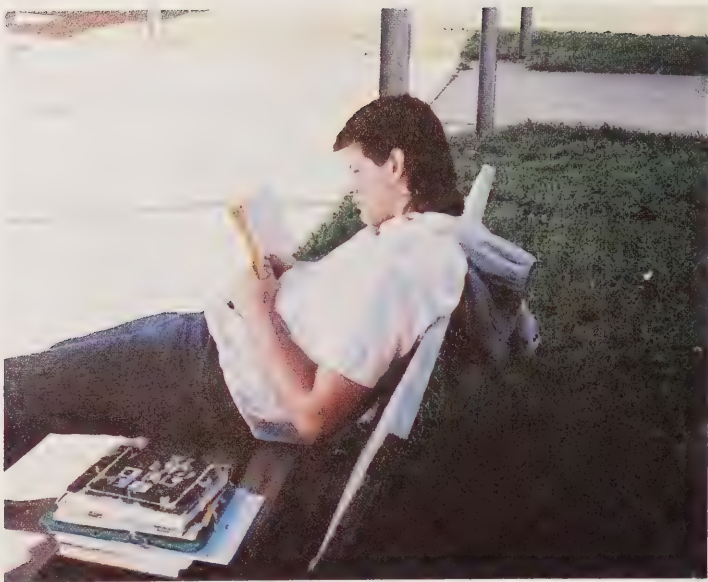

This year East Henderson High School has reason to hold our heads high and be proud. With the addition of several new teachers our teaching staff is continually getting stronger. The students as well as teachers are working together to bring out the best that East High has to offer.

There are many programs available at East High to provide students with the opportunity to excell. Clubs, athletics, music, academic and vocational courses, newspaper and yearbook publications, and art just to name a few.

While each of the students is learning through his own personal experiences all of us have been brought closer together through our shared experiences. Together we strive to reach our goals through hard work, determination, and devotion to our school.

On silent wings eagles fly high, and are a symbol of our academic and personal goals. There is no limit to what we can achieve if we will keep our eyes on those goals and strive hard to do our best. Our wings will grow stronger as we use them. Then we can soar proudly side by side with the eagles, never tiring, going ever upward, keeping confidence in ourselves and holding to our convictions. Through the lowest valley, and to the highest mountaintop, East Henderson Eagles are proudly flying high.

Flying High

Don't

Flying high over the past, the Eagles look toward the future with anticipation. Sophomores wanting to be juniors, juniors wanting to be seniors, and seniors eager to start their independent lives at college, all have learned from past experiences. Defeats that teach us to work harder, failures that teach us not to give in, and victories that teach us there is always another goal to achieve, will always be a major factor of our maturing.

Look

Someday we'll look back and remember the relationships with our highschool sweetheart. Was it suppose to last or was it a game we played to make ourselves feel accepted? What ever happens, remember "Don't Look Back."

Through

Perseverance has always been a quality held by us students here at East Henderson High School. Whether it is the disappointment of a losing score or trying to get out of the junior parking lot, we always seem to overcome our obstacles. Just as the sophomores learn their way around school and the seniors make it through Mrs. Lappin's English class, we continually meet our challenges. As we learn from the past and strive for improvement in the future, the student body of East Henderson High School is truly making it "Through The Fog!"

The Fog

We Have A Good School . . .

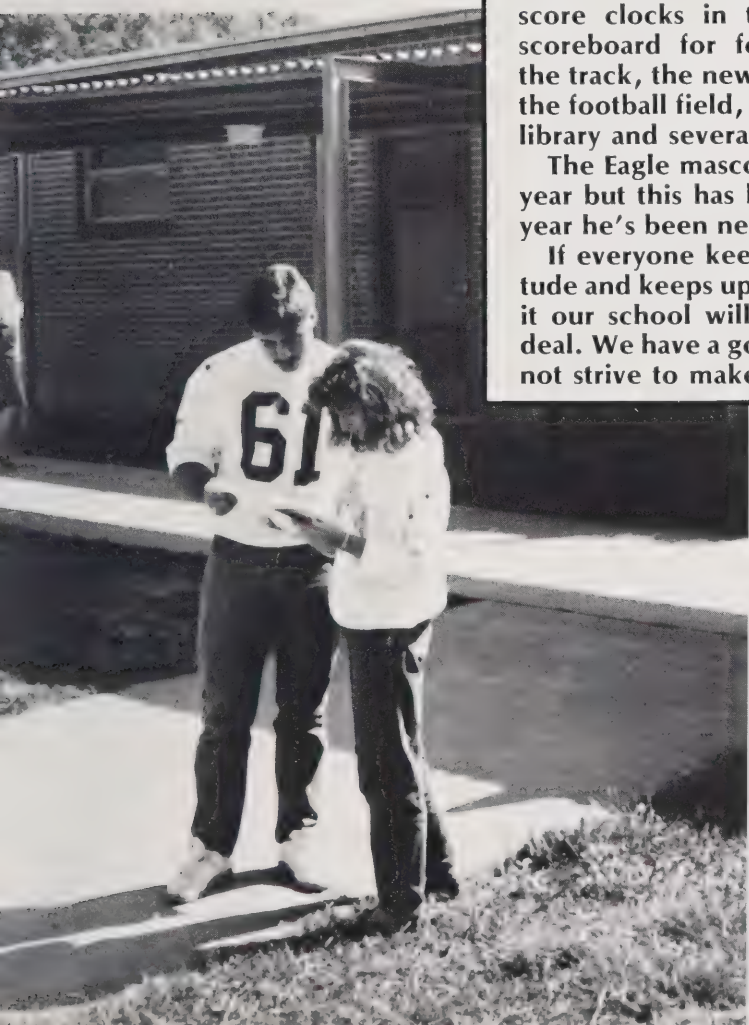

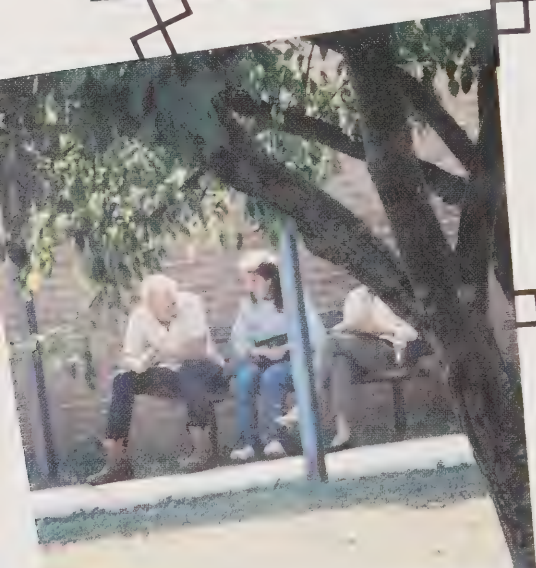

"I'm going to make it better" is the attitude that many came to school with this year. Everyone has worked hard to make East Henderson the best school and if everyone keeps working we will reach our goals of being #1.

There have been many improvements made this year such as new score clocks in the gym, a new scoreboard for football, repaving the track, the new cement eagle by the football field, new carpet in the library and several new teachers.

The Eagle mascot first flew in last year but this has been the first full year he's been nesting here at East.

If everyone keeps a positive attitude and keeps up their school spirit our school will improve a great deal. We have a good school so why not strive to make it better!

Student Life

A Night Of Dreams . . .

Saturday, May 11, 1985. This date holds many memories for those who met at Grove Park Inn. The night of dancing, socializing, and rocking with SIDEWINDER left nothing else to be desired.

This night of elegance brought out the best in everyone. For the seniors, it was a special occasion which will be looked back on with a smile. Juniors got excited by the thoughts of taking beautiful cars, eating expensive food, dressing up, and staying out till early morning hours. For everyone, seeing a different side of friends brought out a special feeling that will not be forgotten.

Seniors entered the ballroom with confidence. While the Juniors followed behind not knowing exactly what to expect. But within a matter of seconds everyone blended together dancing and talking. It seemed as if we had just arrived when the announcement of the last song echoed across the crowded room. Though no one wanted to leave, the night was still young Graduation . . .

... A Night To Remember

Today is June 4, the excitement rises as the Class of '85, the twenty-fifth graduating class, waits for the graduation ceremony to begin. During the last week of May the seniors began to finish their exams and to pay their dues for the cap and gown to be worn on graduation night. The seniors began gathering at seven o'clock. At eight o'clock they make their way down onto the E.L. Justus field to their row of seats and the ceremony begins. The anxiety grows as each and every senior awaits for his name to be announced. They make their way across stage to receive their diploma. After the ceremony is over, the graduates get together to congratulate each other and to say their last good-byes. Congratulations Graduates of 1985!!

SUMMER

HOMECOMING '85

Contrary to popular belief, voting for a homecoming queen is not a popularity or a beauty contest. A homecoming queen should be someone who supports school activities, tries her hardest to raise school spirit, and gives of herself to better her school. This year these qualities are very apparent in our homecoming queen. Congratulations KRISTI WILKINS.

Homecoming, a time of togetherness in our school, built school spirit. The week's activities started with the building decoration contest. Other activities included dress up days, homecoming assembly, car show, powder puff game with a senior victo-

Help Wanted

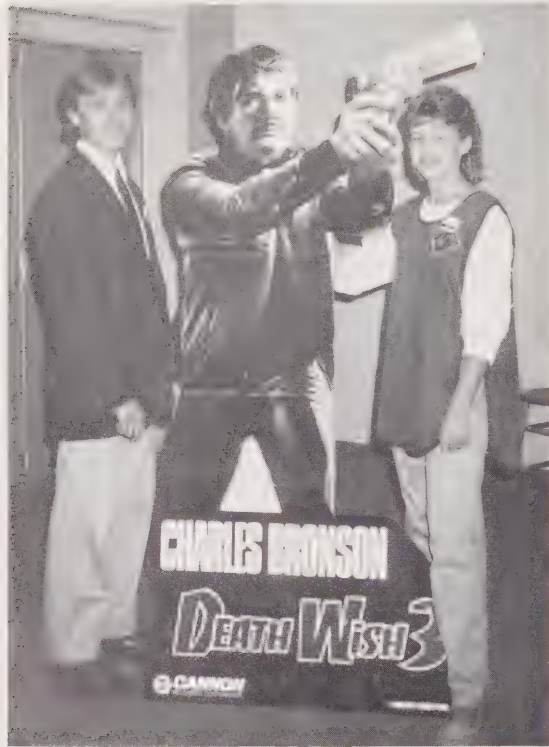

PROFESSIONAL STUDENT

Some students here at East Henderson are involved in many different types of jobs. The jobs vary from grocery stores to restaurants.

Having a part time job while attending school is a terrific experience, not to mention a big challenge. Having a job gives you a sense of responsibility. Although, meeting the challenge of the job and keeping grades up is always rough.

Those students with a part time job deserve a lot of credit!

How Do You Get From

here?

Irma Avellán is from Madrid, Spain. She is living with Melissa Morais and her family. She is not an exchange student. She came here because she likes to travel and has always wanted to come to the U.S. After graduation, Irma plans to return to Spain to study law, then back to the U.S. to study international laws.

We have enjoyed having Irma spend her senior year with us here at East Henderson and hope that she has enjoyed it.

This year, our A.F.S. exchange student is Lisa Ashby. She is from the Caribbean Island of Barbados. While in the United States, Lisa is living with Raymond, Wilma, and Bonnie Goetsch. When school started, Lisa began to meet new people and blend in with life at East Henderson. She enjoys reading, dancing, and, of course, traveling. We hope her visit to the U.S. and to our school was a memorable experience.

The junior class worked hard this year trying to raise money for the prom. To start out the money raising project they held a flea market, items were donated by members of the junior class. Next they sold candy, McDonald's student appreciation cards, advance tickets to Four Season Theater and sold concessions during the volleyball games.

The junior class was really looking forward to the prom that they had worked hard to earn money for and would like to thank Mrs. Barnwell for all her hard work and determination to make their junior year a success.

"We are on the bottom but we are climbing to the top!" This was the sophomore class motto: "We have learned a great deal this year, we have realized that to become successful we must do our best at all times!"

Some of the sophomore activities this year were: decorating their building for Homecoming; painting the faces of those students who wanted to show their spirit during our Homecoming game; and taking pictures of couples or groups of people who attended the Christmas Dance and wanted a remembrance of it.

The sophomore class was sponsored by Mrs. Cynthia Rush and Mr. Todd Camp.

The Shoes: By Teresa Ooley

One of my most vivid and painful recollections of my childhood involved a pair of shoes.

When I turned nine, shortly after my father died, my mother decided I needed a new pair of dress shoes. She knew that I loved black patent-leather shoes, but since my feet had grown too long to wear the children's sizes we went to a shoe store and bought a pair of black shoes with huge, square, gold buckles. Completely trusting my mother and the salesman, I had no idea that they had bought "old lady shoes"; I only noticed my huge feet crammed into the uncomely things.

Whenever I wore those shoes to church, the other children laughed and whispered to each other as they pointed to my feet. To my horror, instead of remaining an inconspicuous and lonely little girl, I became a freak. Looking back now, I can smile at the memory of my awkwardness in those hideous shoes, but I found it quite a different matter at the time. I was miserable; miserable simple because I was different from the other children. Later as I began to realize the rewards of nonconformity, I learned to control my fear of dissidence and take chances more readily.

It took courage for me not to conform, and many times I contemplated giving up and becoming one of the crowd, but I remembered all the historical nonconformists, especially Jesus Christ. He presented radical ideas to the Orthodox Jews, spoke to tax collectors, and healed people on the Sabbath. I decided that if Jesus endured ridicule for being the son of God, I could certainly wear a pair of unattractive shoes without complaint.

His Eyes

I look into the sky and what do I see?
God with his caring eyes looking back at me.
I look into the ocean and what do I see?
God and his wonderful creation looking back at me.
I look into the past and what do I see?
Me, not God now look what he's done for me.
He gave me the world for just being me.
I wish I could be as caring without as much need,
Oh, for what it means to have my God looking after me.

By: Melody Banks

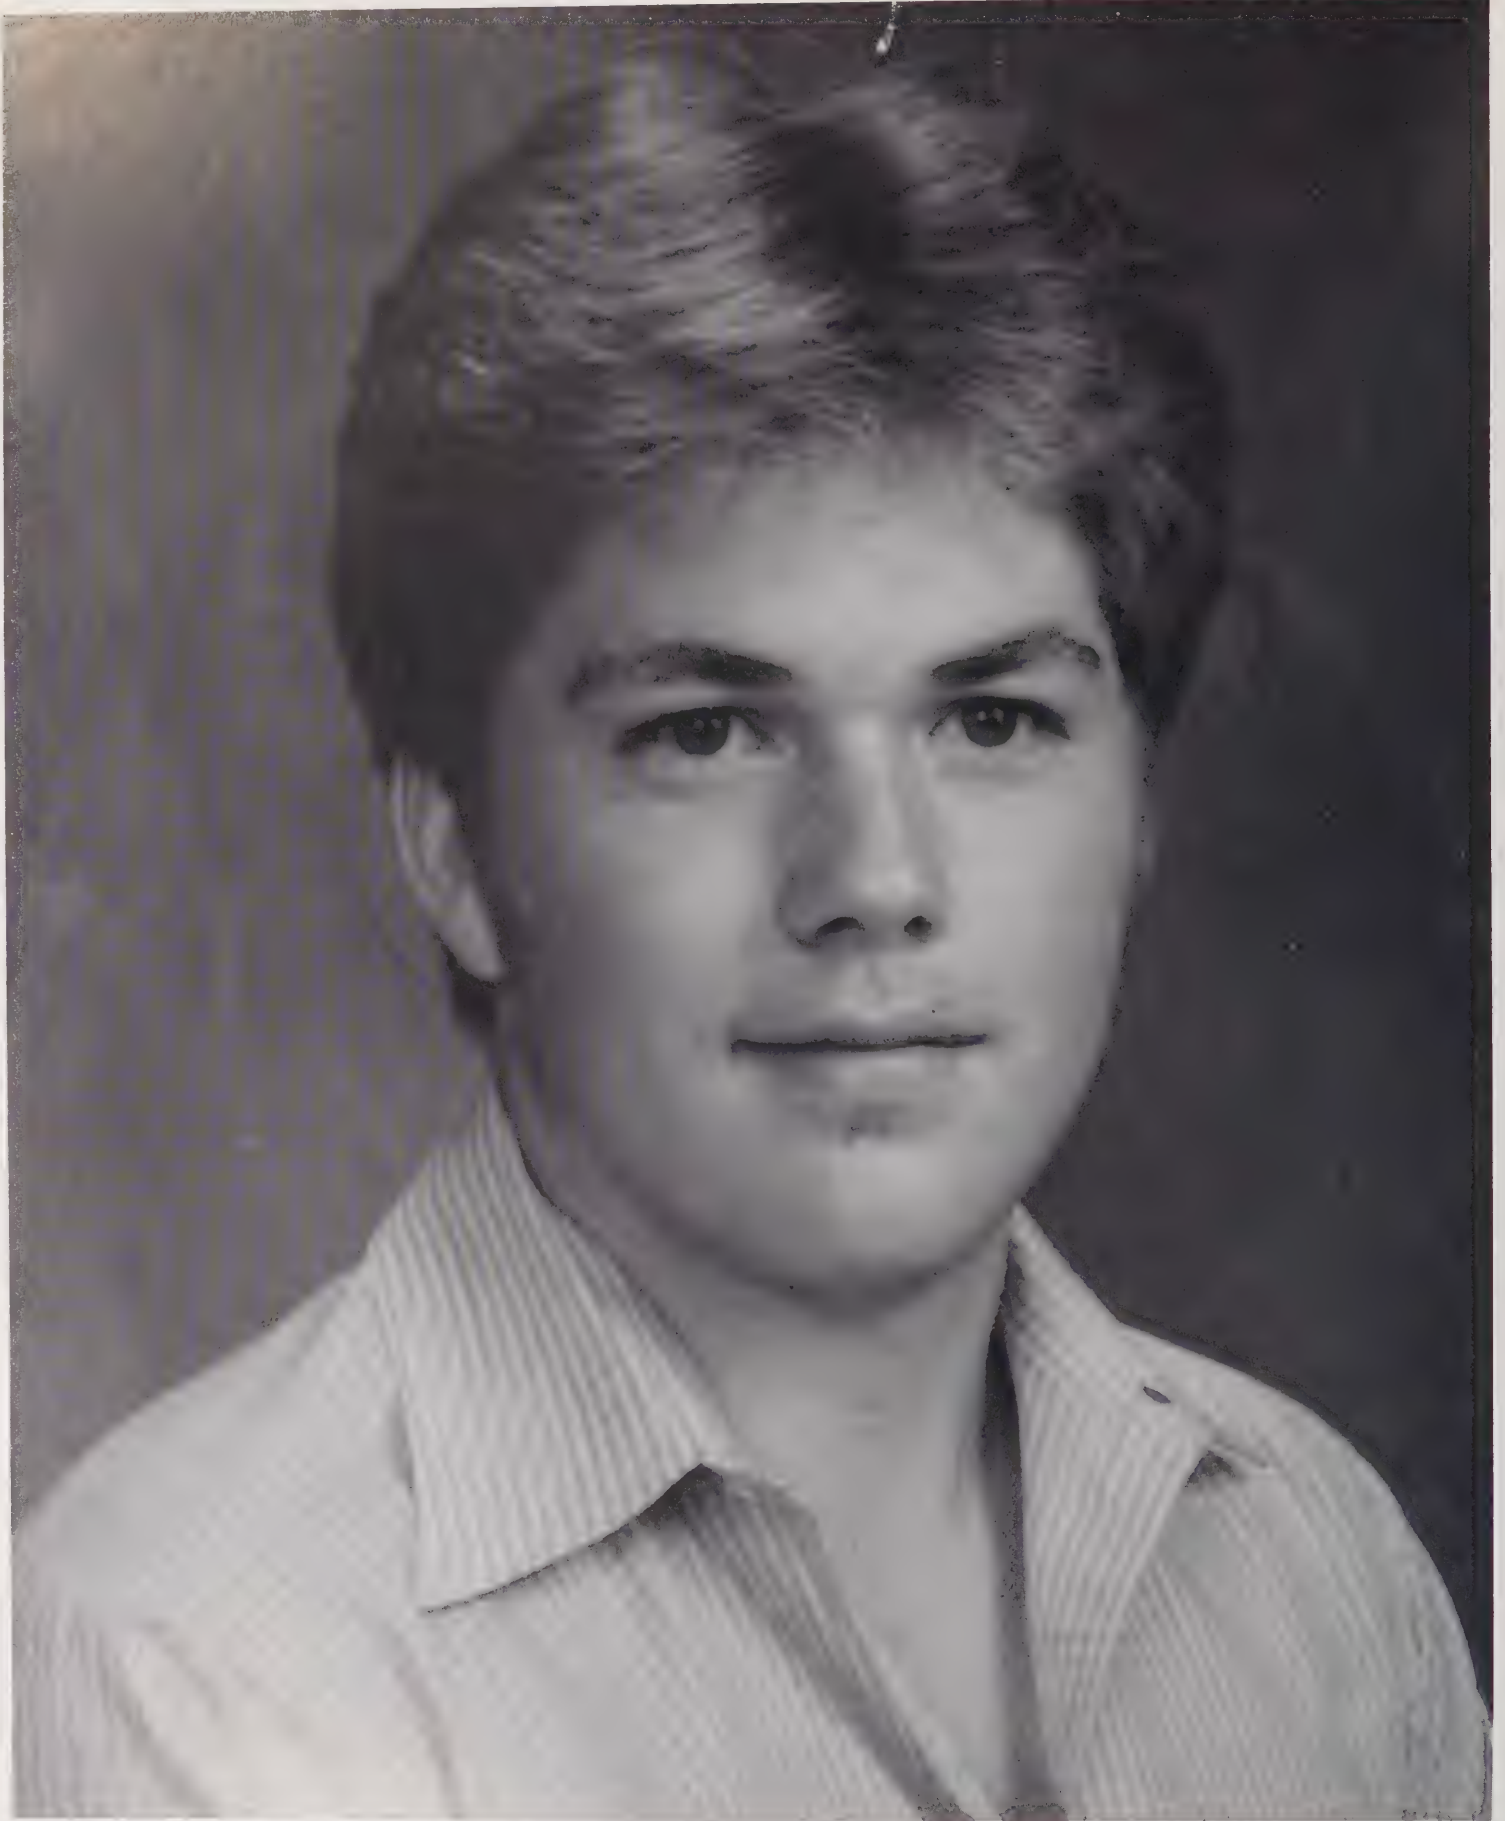

It's time to take a step
Into a future we're not sure of
And say good-bye to a time
That everyone does deeply love
Each year has given memories
Which time can't take away
But we've got to make new Memories and begin to live for today
Who knows about tomorrow,
Because that we can't predict
Yet we're ready to accept the Challenge as the class of '86.

Focus this year was placed on togetherness and with this in mind they developed the theme of "TOGETHER". T is for teamwork that kept our team together, O is for offense that moved the ball with vigor, G is for guts, this they had and this they gave, E is for eagles who stood so tall and brave, T is for the trainer's who kept the players taped, H is for hustle with this a play they'd make, E is for East High in which we're all so proud and R is for rowdy, our team was big and loud. The only time you will see the ladies with their heads hung low is in the huddle while they are receiving their due punishment.

The 1985-86 varsity boy's basketball team got off to a good start. Even though they had a few problems, they always managed to pull through. With hard work, determination, and the skill that each player had, they made a team that we could be proud of. As the year progressed they proved over and over they were a team that could play well under new circumstances. No matter if they won or lost, they played hard until the last shot was made. Congratulations on a job well done.

Through the spirit and determination of the 1985 Lady Eagles and Coach Hawkins, they showed our school what true winners are. They might have been a young team but no one could tell this because of their superb performance on and off the court. Defeat did not get them down but gave the initiative to try just a little harder. We are very proud to have this team represent our school!

Coaches

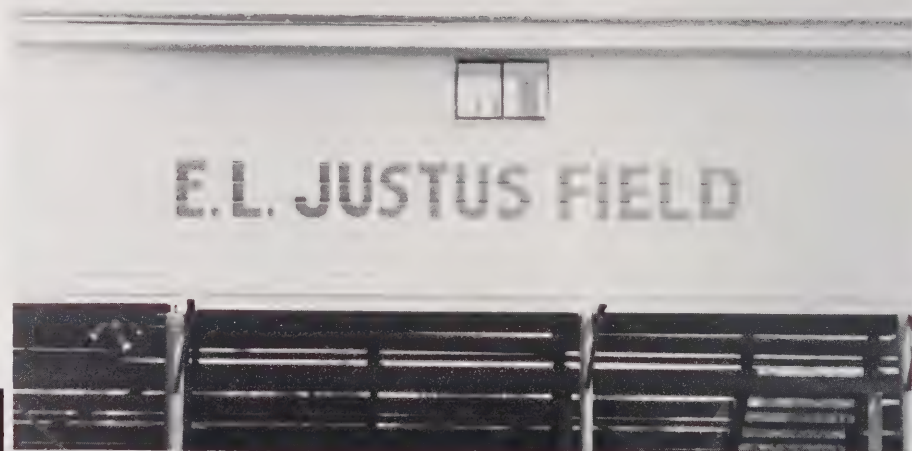

The outlook for spring sports in 1986 is one of excitement for all involved. With most of the key players returning from last year's state-playoff baseball team, this year should prove even more successful. East High's golf squad has long been known for its excellence. With most of the leaders from last year returning, our golf team should be a major contender for the conference championship and advance to post-season play. The combination of last year's members and the very talented group of sophomores this year should prove to be the right chemistry for a very successful Lady Eagles track team. The men's track squad hopes to field one of the largest teams it has had in the past few years. The softball team is looking for one of its very best seasons. We should all be proud of our spring sports. It is definitely the season of the EAGLE!

During Homecoming week the Keywanettes participated in the parade, and performed a skit at the bonfire. After the football game they sponsored a campus cleanup with the Key Club in an effort to improve our school grounds. During Christmas the Keywanettes sponsored a clothes drive and went caroling to various places. The 1985-86 Keywanette Club was chosen to oversee other clubs in North Carolina. They hosted the 1986 convention at the Great Smokies Hilton in Asheville. All during the school year the Keywanettes worked to make the year a success.

Key Club is a young men's civic club developed to help serve the public in the best ways possible. Members help not only the school, but the community and church. Also, they help the elderly with what ever needs they may have. Among the wide variety of projects the Key Club has worked on is the M.S. Foundation to raise money to help the people who are victimized by M.S. and to fund more research to someday prevent it.

The Math and Science Club, sponsored by Joni Wall and Gwendolyn Oechlin, is a newly organized club. Members from the sophomore, junior, and senior class attend various competitions throughout the area. One of the most recent was the competition at the University of North Carolina at Asheville. Independent achievement tests were given to each of the members which required much knowledge. We at East are looking forward to the many future achievements of our new Math and Science Club.

Reporters, salesmen, and editors worked hard to publish the Eagle Eye newspaper. Each month ad salesmen raised money to finance the publication of the paper. Reporters searched for ways to make something interesting out of seemingly dull stories assigned by the page editors. As the deadlines approached, the frantic editors searched for filler copy. By working late into the night or on teacher work days, the paper managed to go out on time.

In March, the newspaper competed in the annual SIPA contest in Myrtle Beach, South Carolina.

The 1986 Highlander staff, advised by Brenda Gray, had a very successful year. Meeting deadlines on time, encountering and overcoming problems was pretty tough. The club has been busy this year typing for the Child Identification Project at the Blue Ridge Mall. Once again, FBLA lent a helping hand to the teachers and typed report cards and grade sheets. With the election of Teresa Ooley to the office of District VIII Vice President, East Henderson became the host of the District VIII Fall Leadership Conference in October. The year also included competition at district and state levels.

“Fiddler On The Roof”

On March 7 and 8, 1985, East Henderson opened its doors to the public to present its annual senior production. This year the seniors presented “Fiddler on the Roof” by Joseph Stein. The cast did a beautiful job memorizing lines, cues and all other aspects that put this play on top of the list of masterful works. Bo Wiggins as Tevye and Miriam Payne as his wife, Golde performed the leads superbly. The fiddler, Christian Sain along with the orchestra brought to the play musical life. Congratulations to the class of '85 for a great performance!

TO LARRY RAY OGLE, OUR GRANDSON:

Larry, you've made us so proud of you. We have watched you grow up playing Little League, Youth Football, Junior High, then High School sports. You have always been a tough competitor and a team motivator. You are a caring and concerned individual whom we love very much.

Best wishes as you graduate and move on to greater things in your life.

Much Love,
Papa & Susie (Mr. & Mrs. Ray Ogle)

TO LARRY OGLE:

Pride, love, respect, honesty, are only a few of your qualities that make us very proud to be your parents. The best for you always.

TO OUR DAUGHTER, SHERRY RAQUEL OGLE,
BEAUTIFUL IN EVERY WAY!

Sherry, its terrific to say "She's ours!" Your accomplishments during the past 12 years have been phenomenal. As a child, we held onto your hand, tho' at times you pulled for independence. As it became evident that you possessed the maturity to pursue that independence, we loosened our grip, allowing you the freedom to explore this great world for yourself. You've handled that independence quite well, and we are very proud to acknowledge you've become "your own woman". Graduating from high school is your first giant step into adulthood. We encourage you to continue along the path to higher education and obtain that college degree you desire so.

We are grateful to the Lord above for His gift to us — a loving, tender, gentle, responsible, and intelligent daughter — YOU!

All our love and best wishes,
Mom & Dad

Sensational Sophomores

Jammin' Juniors

CLASS OF '86

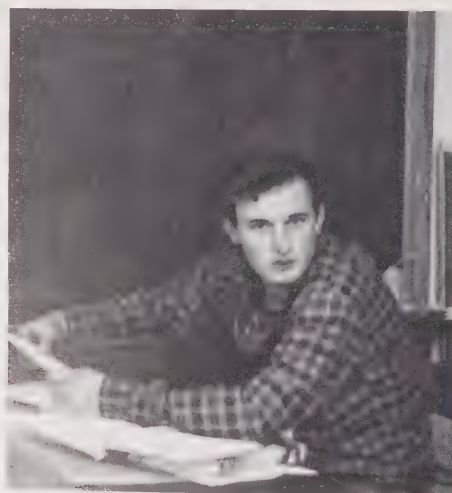

Not long ago the East Henderson Class of '86 met together for the first time. We were strangers, but eager to build new friendships. These friendships expanded as the years went on and finally led to the togetherness we share now. The times of trouble made us stronger and in the times of sadness or defeat, we always picked one another up. We laughed and cried together. The good times we had outweighed the bad. We achieved the possible and fought to achieve the impossible. These memories make it hard to believe that soon our high school days will come to an end. Graduation brings thoughts of sadness. As seniors we are ready to establish our place in society, but still want to grasp the sense of security we've found in one another. Though we now go our separate ways, the class of '86 will live on in each of our hearts.

Upward Bound

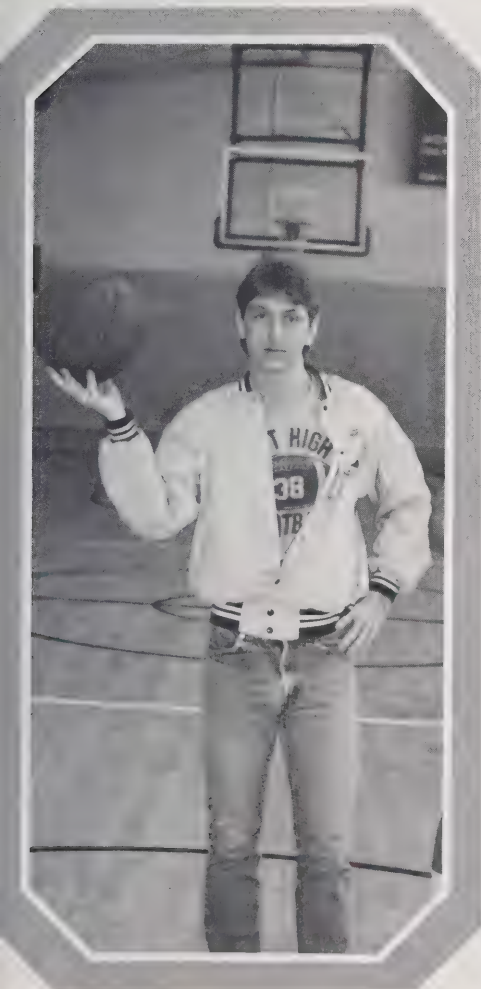

Reaching For

The Top

Sophomores came to East eagerly awaiting their first year in high school. Juniors came back to East for their second year. Seniors came back excited about their last year. Though different ages and personalities, the students pulled together to make one of the best student bodies East Henderson has ever known. By pulling together, we were able to overcome many obstacles that stood before us. With pride we are able to look back and remember.

The Year In Review 85 85 85 85 8

No amount of words or pictures could summarize a year so full of good and bad. Natural disasters and terrorists attacks topped the news, but at the same time there was a growing concern for our fellow man with events like Live Aid, the largest charity event in history, and Farm Aid, a not so large but just as important fund raiser for the ailing farmers. With the threat of nuclear war so ever strong it was reassuring to see the leaders of both the U.S. and Russia meet together and share common goals.

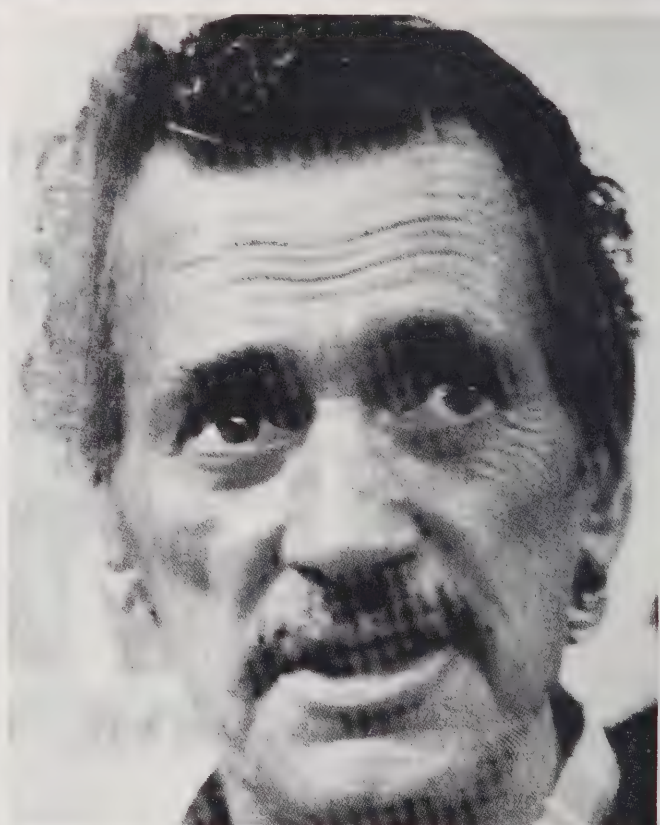

The world held its breath during a dizzying procession of terrorist nightmares. Palestines hijacked TWA Flight 847 in June; four PLO men seized an Italian ship in October. In the November hijacking of an Egyptian airliner, 60 were killed. Rescue forces stormed the plane and terrorists lobbed three grenades, setting off asphyxiating fires.

The year was full of both good and bad. The end of 1985 leaves us with many memories. The pictures on the next few pages represent just a few.

THE SIGN OF THE EAGLE

As co-editors of the 1985-86 yearbook, we would like to thank our staff for a job well done. Putting together a yearbook is a big challenge and only through team work did we pull it off. We chose the theme "Soaring To The Top" for this yearbook because we wanted the students to realize that they have a lot to be proud of and that East High is on the top. The eagle mascot stands for enthusiasm, achievement, good sportsmanship, learning, and everyone. As the year draws to a close all of us will go our separate ways, but we will always be able to remember the good times we have had at East. Congratulations and good luck in the future to all our classmates, the Class of '86.

We love you!
